DOWN in Chatham, Ontario, they discharged a criminal on condition that he would "go west." If they keep it up everyone who arrives in Western Canada from that province will be under suspicion. A Magistrate that would impose a sentence like that must have the brain of a pea-out. He may be one of those gullible people, who brought subdivision property midway between Calgary city and Edmonton, and is a little bitched which city he should pay taxes

too. He takes this method of getting even.

AN advertisement in Calgary papers reads: "wanted a reliable man, no real estate man need apply." That kind of rubbing it in. Pretty soon real estate men won't be considered any more reliable than the average newspaper man.

WE have had letters from Lox and "X" and home-steaders (glorified) about the pre-emption laws. By the time T. R. St and U. V. W. get their letters written the three extra years will be pretty well advanced and every one will be happy. There is nothing like an agitation though, and it often goes along way to get a contented mind just to get our troubles into type, anyway life is just one blame thing after another, only more so.

THAT the Elevator Men in Calgary, didn't die last April is very evident. They are still hot on the trail of the Alberta Co-operative elevator. They have lots of coin, this merger and the managers of the Co-operative Co., must be continually on the alert. The News hopes that the Co-operative Co., will not get in to close proximity to the Manitoba Grain Growers outfit. We shall see what we shall see.

The harvest is over in the States and prospective land buyers are coming into Alberta by the hundreds. A large part of those who would spy out the land arrived several days ago, and were taken into the block of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, along the main line, and a number of sales of some magnitude have been consummated during the past few days. The country could not be in better shape for their inspection, great fields of waving grain in every direction, with the bumper harvest on every farmer with whom they come in contact optimistic and happy because of the prospects of the season now nearing its close.

Within the next two weeks from 1,000 to 1,500 farmers from Colorado and Utah, interested through the efforts of the land agents of the Canadian Pacific, are scheduled to arrive in Alberta, and it is expected that the sales this big influx will run into millions of dollars. They are all handpicked buyers for men who will agree to see that the land they buy is cultivated, which is worth more to the province of Alberta than the advent of 10,000 purchasers who would buy with the idea of holding the land for the increase in value that is certain to come.

Town Council

Council met on Friday night in Dr. McKewen's Office. Messrs Wagner and Skollard were appointed a committee to secure information, prices feasibility etc. of erecting a windmill on the Broadway Street pump. A lengthy discussion followed around this theme a system similar to that employed by A. Cole, is also to be considered. A watering trough for horses will be installed. Councillors Wagner and Skollard, will at their discretion employ men and teams to do grading on town streets. The following accounts were passed: Health officers salary, $24.50. F. Starr Lumber Co., $2.35. Pioneer Day Line, $15.00. A. J. Drummond $3.35. Atlas Lumber Co., $3.00. Carlstadt News, $1.00. Telephone account, 20 cts. Town Treas. on account salary, $100.00.

has been prosecuted vigorously all over the United States for the past year, with the result that one of the biggest movements of settlers into Western Canada that has ever occurred in the history of the west is about to take place.

It is also stated that a great tract of land in the Cardston colony, the property of the Mormon church, is about to be colonized. This land is to be sold to members of the church only at prices close to what it was purchased for several years ago.

Sad Death

It is our sad and painful duty this week to chronicle the death of one of the most popular young ladies in Carlstadt, Miss Madie Geraldine Askew, better known as Dilexy, who passed away at her home, on Monday 7 a.m.

The very severe illness from Typhoid fever and pneumonia through which the young lady had passed was mentioned from week to week in the columns of the News, and in the last week of her illness a seeming improvement was noticeable which continued right up to the hour of death, but recovery was not to be, death intervened.

Madie Geraldine Askew, was in her twenty-first year, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Askew. She came West several years ago with her parents, from Kent County, and for a number of years lived at Rocky Coulee, near Maledon prior to coming to Carlstadt. For the past two years she has resided in town, during the greater part of the time acting as compositor in the office of the Carlstadt News, and discharging her duties in a manner eminently satisfactory. The News joins a host of citizens, in expressing our heart felt sympathy to the grief stricken home. The sisters are Miss Gertrude and Maude, at home and Miss V. G. Merlin. Out the brothers are Grey and Miles, both at home.

On Monday evening a large number of sorrowing friends of the course of sorrowing friends of the deceased, visited the home, and witnessed a very impressive service conducted by Rev. F. E. Clydale of the Methodist Church. Mr. Clydale dwelt particularly on the late Miss Askew's great love for service for her Master.

Following the services the casket was borne to the C. P. R. station, to be taken to the old family home near Monarch. The six young friends of the deceased who acted as pall bearers were: R. R. Armstrong, Vern Starr, F. J. Conn, J. Stockman, Sanford Leitch and W. D. Mackay.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful. They included roses from the Y. W. C. T. U., Carnations from the Ladies Aid, Aster from the Bible Class, Pillow from the Citizens of Carlstadt. Wreath from Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drummond. Spray from the Massey Harris Co., Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Askew, Miss Gertrude Askew, Mr. Grey Askew, Mr. Miles Askew, and Rev. F. F. Clydale, accompanied the remains to Monarch.

Messrs A. J. Drummond and L. Yukum of Medicine Hat, acted as funeral directors.

The charge preferred in the police court last week, against F. Jordan Basken, of illegally receiving a cow while on his way to the court, was dismissed by C. H. Wagner J. P. The Clerk youngster who had the cow in charge at the time admitted, that he had never informed Mr. Basken that he was taking to the pound. Hence the dismissal.

Medicine Hat had as visitors yesterday Grant Hall, general manager of the western lines of the C. P. R., D'Alton C. Coleman, general superintendent at Calgary, W. C. Woodhill, Winnipeg, general superintendent of motive power, F. W. Alexander, divisional engineer, and George Whitley, master mechanic at Calgary. They are on a regular tour of inspections of the western lines, and beyond that, Mr. Hall stated, the visit meant nothing.

Speaking to a Times man yesterday he stated that "never has the system in a better shape to handle the heavy fall crop, and gave it as his opinion that there would be no grain blockage at all this year, or at least next to none. Extensive preparations have already been made for the movement of the grain, for the management fully realized their heavy responsibility, as far as the rushing of the wheat is concerned.

Speaking of crop conditions, he stated that, from countries he had made, and from what he had seen on his trip, he thought that the crop would be rather above the average, and it is his opinion that this would be one of the greatest factors in loosening money. There were signs on every hand that the money market was again getting down to normal, and he believed that as soon as it did the west would have an unprecedented run of prosperity.

The News-Telegram of Calgary, in its issue of Wednesday, August 13th, contains a five-column report on the alleged foundation of affairs in the Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Co. It insinuates that there is the proverbial nigger in the fence, said nigger being the Grain Growers' Association of Manitoba. The general meeting in Calgary should clear this all up. It is a significant fact, however, that the Grain Growers' Guide in Manitoba has its hand out for the printing of the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator System.

We have been informed that a slight error crept into our new columns last week when the birth of Mrs. Farquar's baby was reported. The new arrival was mentioned as a boy but we have since learned that the baby's name is Helen.

Wonderfully fertile land is offered for sale by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at prices ranging from $11 to $30 per acre. There is no better agricultural land than this virgin Canadian soil. It is unsurpassed for all forms of agriculture, including grain growing, stock raising, dairying, poultry culture, vegetable growing, and general mixed farming. The lands are convenient to railways and markets, and are located in a land of low taxation and delightful climate.

TWENTY YEARS TO PAY

Under the Company's new policy, no land is sold to speculators, but only to those who will occupy and improve it. The terms of sale are now one-twentieth cash and the balance spread over twenty years, with interest at six per cent per annum.

ASSISTANCE TO FARMERS

Under certain conditions the Company will advance a loan of $2000 to new settlers to be used in erecting a house and barn, fencing the land, and sinking a well. This loan is repayable on the same terms as the purchase price.

THE RISE

RASPBERRIES

RASPBERRIES, CURRANTS

AND GOOSEBERRIES.

By LE ROY CADY and K. A. KIRKPATRICK of the Minnesota Agricultural College.

THE raspberry will succeed on a great deal of soil. A north slope is desirable but the presence of an abundance of humus in the ground chosen is desirable. The best fertilizer to use is stable manure composted free from straw or fuel weeds. Apply a fairly heavy dressing in the fall. It is desirable to plow in the fall and allow fall weathering. If plowing must be done in the spring the top portion of the soil should first be turned over and then plowed in the fall. In the spring, if the plowing has been done in the fall, as soon as the top of the soil dries and the ground is ready for the work, the raspberries should be planted. Follow with a disk or spring harrow, working the manure thoroughly into the soil. Prefer to apply well rotted stable manure just previous to the treatment.

Time to Plant.
The upright or suckering varieties may be set with good results in the fall. The Jack and Jay, or the group of which the Jack and Jay is the type, must be planted in the spring. Well rotted stable manure should be turned from the top of the soil.

Practicable raspberry propagation is done only by means of suckers.

Keeping them down in winter is always their insurance.

Various soils may be planted. Pests and diseases are usually not present or they are readily controlled.

Currents.
The current must have a moist, cool soil. The best results are got on a sandy soil. The raspberries should be planted in the fall in a good state of cultivation. A cool northern exposure is best. The soil should be moist and the plants should be planted in the fall. The raspberries should be planted in the fall. The raspberries should be planted in the fall.

A downy plant will flourish sufficient to grow on ordinary heavy soil. The raspberries should be planted in the fall. The raspberries should be planted in the fall. The raspberries should be planted in the fall.

Plants.
Currents can be grown from seed, but the method is not used except by the plant breeders. Plants are usually procured from nurseries.

The plants used are grown from cuttings of the ripened wood or from layers. The cuttings are made from the ripened wood or from layers. The cuttings are made from the ripened wood or from layers. The cuttings are made from the ripened wood or from layers.

A Surprise For Man.
One of the greatest singers of France was returning from New York on a German liner. One evening, while on the program of the concert that was to be played at dinner, she sang a French song, the first time she had sung it since 1871.

The audience was so moved that the selection of such a place was an insult to her and announced to a friend that she would expose her disloyalty at the proper time.

The captain noticed the great artist and, instead of allowing her to go to the seat that caused it, then, with a smile, she spoke to one of the waiters in a low tone.

At the moment when the German singer sang, she was to begin the French song, which could not control her agitation, prepared to leave the table.

The first chord was played, the artist sang and stood, pale, agitated and almost, while the other passengers also got up and smiled at the singer.

And the band played "The Marseillaise!"

Prompt Lesson.
Some years ago there was a certain lawyer in Chicago who had been the majority of the law at the time of his accession to office.

He was a very important man, and his name was so important that he was called "The Majority."

On the day of the trial the defendant pleaded guilty without any confession.

Instantly the judge, who was a short, stout, fat man, with a large nose and a large mouth, turned to him and said:

"What do you mean?" he demanded of the prisoner, who was sitting in the dock.

"What do you mean by saying that, when I saw you and you arrested me?"

"I don't know," said the prisoner, "but I saw you and you arrested me."

"I don't know," said the prisoner, "but I saw you and you arrested me."

A MODERN HERO IN WAR.

The General's Demands of Duty and to be Graciously.

The general beckoned to the aid. "Have you found the man who led the first charge, the first man to save the country's citizenship?"

The man came forward. The general gazed at the man from the breast of his coat, and then he said to him:

"Take this, my brave fellow," he said, and his hand was on the man's shoulder. "There was a sudden click."

"That ought to be first class. Easy, natural, dignified. Thank you again."

"How is this?" he demanded. "Just as I am about to hand to you the jeweled emblem of our country's bravery, you draw a camera on me. Are you not a soldier?"

"A soldier! No, no, I'm not brave enough for a soldier."

"Because it was my duty," he said, "I don't understand."

"Then what are you?"

"I'm a war photographer, general."

And that was the beginning of the war. The general beckoned to the aid. "Have you found the man who led the first charge, the first man to save the country's citizenship?"

The man came forward. The general gazed at the man from the breast of his coat, and then he said to him:

Spending.

Spending is surely, putting out your personality. It is like the trailing "tail" to a fashionable woman. Why then, the latest fashions were acquired for yellow dogs? They add to the personality. Why do well-to-do people keep in the way through the forest? And why did Aileen wear her black dress so long that they caught in an oak tree and held him until Jack and his men came up? Vanity! Vanity! In some places they worship the fat woman, who has put much food under his glistering skin. Among other things they worship you for the services you employ without using, for the food you purchase without eating. To spend to us is vulgar; to spend to waste is the only admirable and admirable spending. Phil-Walter B. Wegel in Saturday Evening Post.

Necessity of Life.
A merchant in the West Thirties takes pride in selling notions. He brags of his wares that "wiggle and wrangle or wrangle or wrangle. He brags of his wares that "wiggle and wrangle or wrangle or wrangle. He brags of his wares that "wiggle and wrangle or wrangle or wrangle."

"These are things you don't know you are obliged to have until you see them. And standing now in the corner is a premium—New York Times.

A Safe Topic.
In his book "The Modern War" Mr. Philip Gibbs, the war correspondent, says that the official regulations for the treatment of prisoners of war are the same as those for the treatment of the sick.

Mr. Gibbs found that he was forbidden to describe the condition of the troops, to give the names of generals, to mention the names of the wounded, the names of the soldiers' health, the names of the soldiers' health, the names of the soldiers' health.

When the censor had told him all this, Mr. Gibbs asked him politely: "Will you tell me, sir, if there is anything about which we shall be allowed to write?"

"The censor thought deeply for a moment and then answered quite gravely: 'The much interest in Bulgarian literature.'"

"Carriage," Mr. Gibbs suggested anxiously. "I may also be permitted to describe the song of the birds?"

"All means," said the censor cordially.

Official Cats.
Nowadays there do not appear to be any human rat catchers on the establishment. The cats are all of the same kind. The cats are all of the same kind. The cats are all of the same kind.

Friend—I highly spoken of the cat. The cat is a very good cat. The cat is a very good cat. The cat is a very good cat.

Old Lady—Yes, but I've taken forty years to get it. I don't know what it is. I don't know what it is. I don't know what it is.

Goodly to the Old Home.
"Is your son coming back to the farm when he completes his college course?"

"I dunno," said the old man. "I don't know. The boy may be going to leave the farm for him to come back to."

"That's different."

Drops and Mixins.
Drops vary in size according to the conditions under which they are produced. Some are large and some are small, some long and some short. The drop of the dragon is called a "million," of which 450 go to make a million.
